

This is the Summer's last big weekend. We hope you enjoy yourselves!

This weekend is also the 2008 Cleveland National Airshow at Burke Lakefront Airport. There will be lots of airplanes in the air and on the ground. The U.S. Navy Blue Angels will be flying all three days. There will be demonstrations by F-15C Eagles, F-16 Fighting Falcons, P-51 Mustangs, F/A-18F Super Hornets, F-4U-5 Corsairs, C-130 Hercules, a Russian Viper-29 and BAC 167 Strikemaster Dogfight, and an incredible performance by a 1943 Stearman. There will be a HUGE amount of planes on the ground, too!

If you want a souvenir of the of the planes being showcased this weekend, stop in at PARMA HOBBY and get some of the E-Z Build airplane kits. Priced at $9.95, these snap and screw together, pre-painted models can't be beat! We have everything from the WWI bi-planes (including the Stearman) to the WWII fighters and bombers as well as the modern planes such as the Stealth and YF-22. Of course, we have the Blue Angels!

What's New at Parma Hobby? Well you might ask: quite a lot -- and even more coming in September and beyond

The monsters are arriving by the drove!
